Presents monthly sessions on

Disability, Self-Advocacy & Independence: Your Life, Your Way

Generally, for people with a disability is harder to get the same opportunities as everyone else in the community and be independent. Sometimes because of community perceptions, lack of accessibility, lack of information on services and support available make people with a disability struggle in their everyday lives. Do you feel the need to develop more skills to speak up for yourself and believe in what you can achieve in your life? If all this sounds familiar, these group sessions are for you. Issues related to the NDIS, transports, Disability Royal Commission, equipment, employment, education, quality of service, complaints and everything you consider to be important in your everyday life will be addressed.

LIVE YOUR LIFE, YOUR WAY!!!

Parents/ Guardians are welcome to attend these sessions as well

This session will be about learning to self-advocate

وذلك بعض الاحيان بسبب تصورات المجتمع او بسبب صعوبة الوصول الى اماكن تقديم الرعاية او نقص المعلومات عن الدعم و الخدمات المتاحة لهم جعل الناس ذوي الاعاقة في معانات مع الاعاقة في حياتهم اليومية.

Supporting children's mental health during a pandemic toolkit

I thought I would share this very relevant resource with you through the emerging minds website: Supporting children' mental health during a pandemic toolkit

This toolkit contains resources that will assist parents and carers to support children's mental health during pandemic events such as COVID-19. It contains videos, fact sheets, podcasts and guides and includes information about what to expect and how to help children and families cope.
